

Trump at the Cutting Edge of Time

by Phillip W. Weiss

Incoming POTUS Donald Trump posted a message threatening that all hell will break loose if all the hostages in Gaza are not released by January 20, 2025. However, no one knows for certain how many hostages are still being held and their locations. At least fake news has not reported that information. I signed on to Truth Social. After reading some of the posts, now I have a better idea of why the Dems are preparing to be targeted for attack by Trump. Well, the Dems deserve it. They brought it upon themselves. They used political offices to promote an anti-American political agenda. The Dems believe that the American people are a bunch of Nazis and fascists. They hate the American people. They hate everything associated with the United States. Hence, the Dems must be purged from offices.

In an act of flagrant hypocrisy, POTUS Joe Biden pardoned his son Hunter who was convicted of several felonies and was awaiting sentencing. Biden did exactly what he publicly states he would not do, and then joined Trump in complaining about the weaponization of the judicial system, making these complaints after publicly excoriating Trump for having made the same claims. Joe Biden is beyond all doubt the worst and most corrupt POTUS in history. Biden created crises to promote his party's anti-American political agenda. Please understand that Biden is the titular head of a political party that believes that the bulk of American voters are Nazis.

Fake News reported that The White House is bedecked with Christmas ornaments in an ostentatious display of holiday cheer. This overblown homage to Christmas is hypocrisy on steroids. The ornaments include an eighteen-foot-high tree from North Carolina and the halls covered with tens of thousands of lights. Compare that with the left-wing British Prime Minister Starmer lighting up a Christmas tree in front of 10 Downing Street in a much more modest, tasteful and toned-down demonstration of holiday cheer. Biden has brought more heat upon himself as he is leaving office. Biden's actions seem nonsensical but to him they apparently make sense. But life goes on and that includes politics.

While Mr. Biden continues to bring discredit on himself and his political party which deposed Biden, Trump is moving quickly with his preparations to take power. The whole world is already paying homage to Trump who is the most powerful and influential politician in the world. Trump talks and the world listens and reacts. No one ignores Trump. Unlike eight years ago, when the start of his first administration was marred by massive demonstrations incited by the Dem party, now all is quiet. Trump, backed by EIGHTY MILLION VOTERS FED UP WITH THE DEMOCRAT PARTY, is in full control. He will crush all opposition, weed out all the Dems embedded in the government who hate the United States, and set a tone of law and order that will filter throughout the United States.

The top threat to the survival of the United States is the Dem party whose agenda is to incite violence and destroy the United States. On day one Trump will revoke every Biden executive order, lift all restrictions of the production of oil, close the border to so-called migrants, and will start rounding up and removing people who have entered the United States without permission. Then he will impose massive tariffs on all imports until other nations take action to stop dumping migrants and drugs onto the United States. He will stop the proxy war being waged by the US against Russia and throw ALL US support behind Israel, which will end the war in the Mideast. He will do all of this.

But anything Trump accomplishes will be only temporary unless he takes decisive action to bring the entire Dem party under control and stop them from waging war against the American people and agree to cooperate with efforts to make America great again and to keep America great. That means getting the Dem party to once and for all repudiate its support for defunding the police, open borders, high taxes, Islamo-political radicalism, and to STOP CALLING PEOPLE NAZIS.

Whether Trump can accomplish his agenda only time will tell, and time is merciless and cruel and unforgiving. Once time passes, it is lost forever. There are no replays in the game of time. Trump must be cognizant of the exigencies of time and thus must act decisively and FAST to implement his program. Trump has been given the opportunity to accomplish great things that will help make the United States and the world a better place. Trump is at the cutting edge if time. Now let him do it.
